Anderson Again Newport Victor

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 18 (UPI)—Malcolm Anderson successfully defended his Newport Cup today in the final round of the Philadelphia Open by defeating his fellow Australian, Alby Cooper, 64, 57.

The match held up a day by rain, was played on a caddy court following showers that threatened to force another postponement.

Anderson won the U. S. singles title at Wimbledon in July. He ranked as the top amateur in the world, and their match was a rare treat for the spectators.

Anderson won the match on his superior volleys and better control. Cooper had many chances to break service, but he could not come through in the clutch.

Cooper came back to the court with the doubles tournament trophy that turned out at the last in spite of the weather.

Vim was timed in one hour, 40 minutes and 43 seconds, and made 19.9 knots.

The observation trials continue tomorrow and the final set of observation trials will be held on Sept. 17.

Fazio Ties in City Open After Breaking Putter

A broken putter was the break second by George Fazio, 27, who shot a 64 to tie for the lead in the Philadelphia Open.

After breaking his old rusty putter, Fazio used a new one to score a first round 78. Fazio borrowed a mallet putter from the pro shop and found a one-eyed putter for a 36-hole score of 147.

It was good enough to put him ahead of the 100 pros in the field of 141, but not enough to give him the title.

Jack Pennington, 34, a professional, broad-shouldered amateur from Atlantic City, just beat the darkness to post round of 72 that ducked the pacekeeper.

PLAYOFF IN SPLIT.

Others getting to the fourth round after two victories were Fred Seale, Don Norman, Andrew Loubat, New Orleans; Carl Hankk, St. Louis; M. Albertus, Boca Raton, Fla.; and Justin Bricks, Union City, N. J.

CHARLEY ROBERTSON, right-handed pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, pitched a perfect game against the Detroit Tigers on April 20, 1922, not a batter's walk in a 9-inning game.

There were no others in the major leagues until Don Larsen, of the Yankees, did it against the Dodgers in the 1954 World Series.
