Ex-Georgetown forward seized on drug charge

Compiled by The Inquirer Staff

John Turner, a starting power forward whose Georgetown basketball scholarship was revoked last month, was arrested Monday night at an outdoor basketball court in Glen Arden, Md., and charged with trying to distribute crack, police said.

Turner, 21, who started 27 games for the Big East conference champion Hoyas in the 1988-89 season, had his scholarship withdrawn by coach John Thompson last month.

Turner left Georgetown shortly after Thompson said on ABC's Nightline that he had learned that Turner had fraternized with Rayful Edmond 3d, the alleged leader of the city's most notorious cocaine ring.

The Washington Post reported that Turner — using an assumed name — had been playing in a summer league not sanctioned by the NCAA, a situation that leaves in doubt Turner's eligibility for further collegiate basketball competition.

Southeastern Louisiana University will suspend its men's basketball program for at least one year because of a $480,000 athletic-department deficit. The debts were incurred last year in trying to revive football at the school.

Keith Wood, the top scorer on Chester High's state championship basketball team and a first-team all-state selection of the Associated Press, signed a letter of intent to attend Hagerstown Junior College in Hagerstown, Md.

Golf

Robert Gamez, 21, a former University of Arizona player, shot a 64 to take a 4-stroke lead in the second round of the 64th U.S. Amateur Public Links Championship, in Lemont, Ill.

Gamez bettered the old course record of 68, shared by Homero Blancas, a professional, and Marti Schiene, a regular on the Canadian PGA tour.

The tournament is being played at the Cog Hill Golf and Country Club's Dubsdread course.

Tennis

Top-seeded Zina Garrison and second-seeded Pam Shriver scored easy first-round victories at the $200,000 Virginia Slims tournament in Newport, R.I., but two other top players were eliminated from the only U.S. grass-court tournament on the women's pro tour.

Fourth-seeded Patty Fendick had four match points, but Hu Na rallied for a 3-6, 7-5, 6-1 victory. Fifth-seeded Amy Frazier dropped a 6-1, 6-2 decision to Michelle Jaggard of Australia.

Garrison, ranked fifth in the world, routed Lisa Albano, 6-1, 6-1, in 55 minutes. Shriver eliminated Ann Henrickson, 6-3, 6-2.

•

Paul Hoffstein upset eighth-seeded Ken Isaacs, 7-6 (7-5), 4-6, 6-2, in the fourth round of the Middle States Tennis Championship at the Du Pont Country Club in Wilmington. Top-seeded Tom Mastromarino beat Brian Catchpole, 6-0, 6-0; third-seeded David Weich defeated Chris Donoho, 6-1, 6-0, and fourth-seeded Jim Kegelman won, 6-2, 6-4, over Maurice Coleman. In other matches, Marc Sonders defeated Dave Gonzalez, 6-2, 6-4, and Glen Howe beat Matt Gittleman, 7-6 (7-1), 6-3.

•

Herb Bascome gained the semifinals of the Middle States 55-and-over Clay Court Tennis Championship by defeating Morgan Macon, 6-7 (4-7), 6-0, 6-1, at the Germantown Cricket Club. In other matches, Newton Meade beat John Schiavo, 7-5, 6-1; Howe Atwater defeated Keith Kraus, 6-0, 6-2, and John McGrath beat Charles Stehle, 6-1, 6-1.

•

Terry Hassall of the Merion Cricket Club and Richie Cohen of Philadelphia defeated Ron Groff and Bob Richard, 6-1, 7-5, in the quarterfinals of the Delaware State 35-and-over Tennis Doubles Championship at the Hercules Country Club in Wilmington.

Hockey

Alan Eagleson, executive director of the NHL Players Association, has postponed a union meeting at which measures that would diminish his power were to have been reviewed.

Player representatives from the 21 clubs had been scheduled to meet in Toronto on Monday and Tuesday to ratify measures adopted after Eagleson survived a no-confidence vote at a heated union meeting in early June.

Bob Probert, the former Detroit Red Wings star, pleaded guilty to a charge of importing cocaine from Canada. The plea was made under an agreement that apparently will limit his time in prison to one year.

Probert was expelled from the NHL shortly after his March 2 arrest, making him the first player in the history of the league to be kicked out for a drug offense.

Swimming

Angel Myers announced that she was dropping her request for arbitration over her expulsion from the U.S. Olympic team last summer and indicated that she might give up swimming altogether.

A drug test imposed by the United States Olympic Committee last August indicated steroid use, although Myers, who won four gold medals and a bronze medal at the 1986 Goodwill Games, contended that the examination misread the contents of birth-control pills she was taking.

Pro basketball

Second-year forward Tim Perry, bothered by a slight knee injury, will sit out the remainder of the Phoenix Suns' rookie- and free-agent camp, and also may miss the forthcoming season of the Southern California Summer Pro League, club officials said.

Perry, the Suns' first-round draft pick in 1988 out of Temple, said he strained ligaments in his right knee about 10 days ago while working out on a weight machine.

Keystone Games

The Keystone Games will be held in the Allentown-Bethlehem area from 1990 through 1992. The Lehigh Valley site was picked over Altoona, but the board of directors of the games adopted a resolution to hold them in western Pennsylvania from 1993 through 1995 "if at all possible."

A three-year rotation in Scranton and Wilkes-Barre will be completed with this year's Keystone Games, to be held Aug. 9-13.

Frankford's Warley returning to Phil-Mont

By Kevin L. Carter
Inquirer Staff Writer

Frankford High's Carlin Warley, who with his brother Jason, helped lead his school's basketball team to two straight Public League titles, has decided to leave Frankford and return to Phil-Mont Christian Academy.

Warley, an Inquirer all-area selection, is a 6-foot-7 center who averaged 14.5 rebounds per game last season. He will be entering his senior year at Phil-Mont Christian, a private school just outside Philadelphia in Erdenheim, Montgomery County.

Warley, who attended Phil-Mont Christian from fourth grade through his freshman year, said he had always intended to graduate from Phil-Mont.

"It was an agreement between me and my mother," Warley said last night. "No matter what happened, I would always come back. It's kind of like home to us."

Warley's mother, Charlene, said yesterday that Carlin had said he wanted to return to Phil-Mont shortly after the end of the 1988-89 school year. She said he had contacted Phil-Mont coach Chip Struck and expressed the same desire.

"Coach Struck called maybe a week ago," Charlene Warley said, "and Carlin told him, 'I'm coming back.'"

Carlin and Jason Warley, who graduated from Frankford in the spring, were considered to be among the Public League's best players, and played a major part in the Pioneers' back-to-back championships.

"That wasn't in our mind, to win two Public League championships," Carlin Warley said. "The main thing was to prove we were good enough to play with the best players in the city."

As for how the move will affect how colleges look at him, Warley said: "If some colleges tend to shy away because I'm going back, then they weren't really interested in me in the first place. They don't really matter."

Jason is attending summer classes at St. Joseph's. He is waiting for the results of his latest Scholastic Aptitude Test, which he took last month. If he scores above 700, he will play for St. Joe's this year.

Jason said he was happy to have Carlin back on his team, for which Warley had started as a freshman.

Frankford coach Vince Miller said he was surprised.

"I was just a little surprised, because I had no indication" that he was going back to Phil-Mont, Miller said.

He said he had not spoken to Carlin or his parents since the move.

"I enjoyed the two seasons he was with us, and I wish him a lot of luck," Miller said.
